The Murdoch difference

Ask anyone who's studied here:
there's something special about Murdoch.

Murdoch is a place where you can be yourself and be appreciated for who you truly are. It's the kind of place where the lecturers know you by name, and down-to-earth students wave to you across the lawns of Bush Court. We are honoured to welcome staff and students who come from all walks of life.

Whether you want to change the whole world, some of the world, or just your world, our extensive range of courses and hands-on learning facilities will equip you with the skills you need. But the most important thing you'll learn here? To think freely, and to think for yourself.

We don't follow the crowd, and neither do our students. Thousands of free-thinking students have graduated from Murdoch and made their mark on the world. When you're thinking for yourself, there's no limit to what you might achieve.

Free thinking has always been at the heart of Murdoch and continues to steer us towards activities that truly matter. We're different, and we're proud of it.

Welcome to our vibrant community.

NEW COURSE AT MURDOCH!

Are you interested in learning about the challenges that face life on the planet?

The new global challenges major will provide you with the ability to identify and understand social and industry trends that will reshape the world in coming decades, and will allow you to develop the capabilities necessary to succeed in a reshaped society.

You'll also learn how our present and past thinking, relating to social and political change, are part of the solutions being advanced by leading thinkers across multiple industries.

TAKE YOUR THINKING GLOBAL

Studying a degree in social and cultural studies opens you up to theoretical learning with hands-on industry placements and global internship opportunities.

You could travel to Indonesia for a semester as part of the national Australian Consortium for 'In-Country' Indonesian Studies (ACICIS) program or complete a semester in Japan at one of our 10 partner universities. You can also take advantage of our strong links to Asia through our Asia Research Centre, a leading international authority on politics, governance and social change in the contemporary Asian region – located right here at our Perth campus.

GET HANDS-ON EXPERIENCE THROUGHOUT YOUR STUDIES

Develop the skills that boost your competitive advantage and get you career-ready upon graduating. Murdoch's Work Integrated Learning program allows you to complete internships and placements through our industry contacts including community groups, private organisations, non-government organisations (NGOs), or government agencies.

MAXIMISE YOUR STUDIES BY ADDING A CO-MAJOR OR MINOR TO YOUR DEGREE

We have a wide range of Social and Cultural Studies co-majors and minors on offer, which you can study alongside your chosen major.

You could choose from Asian studies, community development, gender studies, global politics, religion or sustainable development.

COMPLEMENT YOUR DEGREE BY STUDYING A MINOR

Whether you want to tap into an area of personal interest, expand your learning or increase your career potential upon graduating, studying a minor might be for you. There is a range of minors that you can choose from at Murdoch, depending on where your interests lie. You could choose to study:

- Asian Studies
- Anthropology
- Community Development
- Creative Writing
- Literature
- Global Politics
- Critical and Human Security
- Security, Terrorism and Counterterrorism
- Gender Studies
- Modern History
- Indonesian

Bachelor of Arts in International Aid and Development

Make a positive impact on the world.

Are you passionate about equality for all and helping communities develop a better future?

Studying a Bachelor of Arts in International Aid and Development will allow you to explore current challenges of poverty and inequality whilst gaining an in-depth understanding of international development programs and approaches to help combat these.

You'll be able to work with local and international organisations on projects to gain a real-world perspective and hands-on experience that you can apply in your career upon graduating.

Why study International Aid and Development at Murdoch?

1. Experience a week-long immersion whilst you study. Enjoy a team bonding field trip to Denmark, Western Australia with your peers and learn about aid and development approaches such as community resilience.
2. Take your studies global*. You could travel to Indonesia for a semester or over summer as part of the Study Indonesia Australian Consortium for 'In-Country' Indonesian Studies (ACICIS) program.
3. Collaborate with practitioners in the industry. Learn alongside industry expert academics, like Dr Rochelle Spencer, who have worked on aid and development projects in South America and Africa.

Subject to international travel restrictions*

“ There were a few reasons for choosing Murdoch. Firstly, I loved the campus, particularly the bushland and secondly, it was the only university that offered such a diverse range of degrees in relation to sustainability and development courses. I was drawn to the human rights and sustainability elements that permeate almost all the courses at Murdoch.

I have never felt like a number to any of my lecturers. All my lecturers have genuinely cared about my learning experience and have been willing to work flexibly to accommodate different student needs. To know that your lecturers are supporting you every step of the way makes a huge difference. ”

A global outlook

We want to change your world, literally. We'll encourage you to think for yourself and be curious about how the world works.

The world becomes your classroom when you join one of our 70 Study Abroad and Exchange programs across the globe.

Whether you spend a winter abroad in Europe or do a semester exchange in Asia, the opportunities are endless.

Best of all, your overseas study can count towards your degree, so you can see the world while completing your degree. This means that not only do you get to see the world while undertaking your Murdoch degree, but you'll also:

- Get a different perspective on your course
- Take classes that aren't available at Murdoch
- Learn a new language or improve on existing skills
- Add value to your resume and increase your employability
- Build an international network
- Become more confident, independent and mature
- Meet people from different cultures and make friends from around the world!

EXCHANGE PROGRAM

If you're looking to spend anywhere between a semester or a year overseas, our exchange program could be what you're looking for. You could choose from one of the destinations below:

- Austria
- Canada
- Croatia
- Czech Republic
- Denmark
- Germany
- Hong Kong
- Ireland
- Japan
- Malaysia
- Netherlands
- Spain
- Sweden
- United Kingdom
- USA

SHORT-TERM PROGRAMS

If you want to travel overseas while studying but only have a short amount of time, our short-term program might be best for you. With a short-term program, you can study one or two units with one of our overseas partners, usually during the summer or winter break. If you're looking for more hands-on learning, an international internship could give you real-world experience and boost your future career prospects. You could head to London, New York, Cambodia or Spain, to name just a few.

INTERNATIONAL STUDY TOURS

Like the short-term program, international study tours run over the summer or winter breaks. You could get valuable work experience while on tour with other students from your area of study.

Social and Cultural study tours:

- Community Development Study Tour (Bhutan)
- Sustainable Cities China Study Tour and Practicum (China)
- Sustainable Community Development Practicum (Indonesia)

“I can assuredly say that the whole experience has changed me for the better. I've been challenged by language and cultural barriers, being truly 'alone' in the sense of having no family and friends in the city, living in a city so alien from my hometown of Perth. I've made amazing friendships, with locals and other foreigners, which I dearly treasure.”

Find your path

Enrolling into university is a big decision, especially if you are unsure whether you'll meet the admission requirements. The first thing you need to do is find out which of our admission pathways you are eligible for, and how they work.

WHAT ENTRY REQUIREMENTS WILL I NEED TO MEET TO STUDY AT MURDOCH?

To gain admission into an undergraduate course at Murdoch, you will need a Western Australian Certificate of Education (WACE), a selection rank of 70 or higher (depending on your chosen course) and you will need to meet our English Language Competency (ELC) requirements. There are multiple ways to demonstrate your ELC and achieve a selection rank of 70.

MEETING ACADEMIC AND ENGLISH LANGUAGE COMPETENCY (ELC) REQUIREMENTS

The most common ways for a domestic student to meet ELC requirements are:

- Two years of Year 11 and 12 or VET studied in Australia (or a combination of both), or
- A minimum scaled score of 50 or higher in ATAR English (or equivalent), or
- A score of 140 or higher in the Written English Component of the Special Tertiary Admission Test (STAT).

ACHIEVING A SELECTION RANK

A selection rank of 70 can be achieved by attaining a raw or adjusted ATAR of 70, completing an accredited Certificate IV or higher, achieving an International Baccalaureate (IB) score of 24 or higher, or by using a portfolio. You can also achieve a 70 selection rank by completing one of Murdoch's enabling courses. Some courses, like Engineering, Law and Veterinary Science have higher selection ranks, which can be achieved by higher ATAR or IB scores, higher level VET qualifications, or previous university study.

To find out more, visit murdoch.edu.au/courses

AM I ELIGIBLE FOR MURDOCH RISE?

At Murdoch we offer Murdoch RISE, a selection rank adjustment aimed at supporting access to university for students from regional, low socio-economic, or Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander backgrounds. It can help you get into your preferred course by increasing your Murdoch selection rank. There's no need to register – if you're eligible, the adjustment factor is automatically added to your raw ATAR score when you apply to Murdoch.

To find out what schools and postcodes are eligible for the RISE adjustment, visit murdoch.edu.au/admissionpathways

WHAT DO I DO IF I DON'T MEET THE ENTRY REQUIREMENTS TO STUDY AT MURDOCH?

If you don't meet the entry requirements that's okay – we offer a range of pathways to study at Murdoch, including our range of enabling pathway courses. Our enabling pathway courses will help you transition to uni and boost your academic skills.

PORTFOLIO ENTRY PATHWAY

If you're ready to pursue your university goals but don't currently meet our standard admission requirements, our portfolio entry pathway could be the ideal option for you. If you're a school leaver, you can demonstrate your eligibility through your final Year 12 subject results and/or extra-curricular activities that relate to your desired course. All portfolio applicants need to demonstrate English Language Competency (ELC). Portfolio entry is also available to mature age applicants and may be suitable for those who can demonstrate skills and experience related to the area in which they would like to study.

ENABLING PATHWAY COURSES

We have a range of enabling courses available, taking into account your high school results, previous studies, and work and life experience. Our pathway courses will help you develop the skills you need to study at a university level. Upon successful completion, you'll be eligible to study most undergraduate courses with a selection rank of 70.

OnTrack

Our most popular enabling pathway course is OnTrack, a free 14-week course run at our Perth, Mandurah and Rockingham campuses.

OnTrack will provide you with a supportive adult learning environment in which you can develop effective study habits and learning strategies as well as the tuition needed to develop your academic skills to an undergraduate level. You will be given assistance to explore an undergraduate degree program that matches your aspirations and a network of peer and academic support at Murdoch University.

FlexiTrack

If you'd like to study a pathway course like OnTrack but can't commit to a full-time workload or would prefer to study online, then FlexiTrack may be the course for you.

With the same entry requirements and course content as OnTrack, FlexiTrack is our free online course for students who do not qualify for direct entry. The course can be studied intensively over 10 weeks, full-time over 20 weeks, or part-time over 12 months. With numerous intakes available, you could begin your studies in February, April, July, September or November.

OnTrack Sprint

If you don't quite get the ATAR results you need, OnTrack Sprint could be the right option for you. It's a free, intensive 4-week course which commences every year in January at our Perth campus.

OnTrack Sprint will help you to develop effective study habits and learning strategies and build your academic skills to an undergraduate level in a supportive environment. If you successfully complete this course you could apply to start one of our degrees in Semester 1, at the same time as your high school friends (excluding nursing).

To be eligible, you'll need a selection rank between 60 and 69.95 and have met English Language Competency (ELC) requirements within the last 18 months or have a selection rank of 70 or higher within the last 18 months and be unable to demonstrate ELC.

K-Track

K-Track is our free 14-week on-campus course designed to enable Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander students to qualify for entry into an undergraduate degree. The course is tailored specifically for students who would not otherwise qualify for entry.

Through a series of units, you'll explore the concepts of communication, collaborative work practices and critical thinking. You will also be introduced to academic writing styles, referencing, essay writing and constructing arguments.

“Murdoch has widely contributed to me changing my own world.”

Murdoch

My deepest passions and interests focus on helping and empowering other people, in particular women and children.

I chose to complete my studies at Murdoch online on a part-time basis from my home in Sydney, Australia. By completing my degree on my own terms, I was able to continue working full time as a registered nurse.

I always had good intentions of doing humanitarian work, but I knew I needed more than just my own perseverance. I needed knowledge, skills and experience. I knew that Murdoch could provide me with everything I needed, even if I was on the other side of the country. My learning experience was flexible, which suited me perfectly. Giving up my full time job to move to Perth to study just wasn't an option at the time. I would watch my lectures at my own convenience and complete my assignments in my own time when it suited me.

At the time that I commenced my studies, I was already the CEO and Founder of my own charity, Gennarosity Abroad, which is based in Kenya. I established my charity back in 2010 after a volunteer placement in Kenya after completing high school. I spent a lot of time abroad working for and experiencing my charity, and because of this I have been able to secure ongoing employment opportunities for local people in Kenya.

My degree from Murdoch has widely contributed to me changing my own world and the world of those who I help in Kenya. It has given me perspective that I wouldn't have otherwise had. It has helped me to think outside of the box and be flexible and driven in my career.

Since graduating from Murdoch, I have continued to work as a registered nurse and work as the CEO of Gennarosity Abroad. One of my career highlights to date was having the ABC come out to Kenya to film my charity work. The 27-minute episode aired on Compass, an Australian weekly news-documentary program. But for me, my biggest career achievement is getting to change the lives of those who I work with in Kenya.

My advice for future students is to study a degree that you're passionate about. By making connections with like-minded, supportive and positive people, you'll thrive. Study because you have a curiosity for what it is you are learning about. Focus on the skills you are learning and how you can adapt and apply them to the world around you. It's more important than anything to make every moment of your studies and your experiences at university count.
